Leveraging Your Library’s Influence.
New Regional History from

Dawn’s Light Woman & Nicolas Franchomme
Marriage and Law in the Illinois Country
Carl J. Ekberg and Sharon K. Person
$27.50 paper • 264 pages • 24 illus.

“Ekberg and Person have done it again, training their tenacious research and creative analysis on the complex social world of early Illinois families. Foregrounding marriage, kinship, property, and law, the authors explore day-to-day dramas that also reveal the workings of empire and power in an early American community.”—Robert Michael Morrissey, author of Empire by Collaboration: Indians, Colonists, and Governments in Colonial Illinois Country

“A superbly researched and beautifully written book on a neglected part of US history. As a deep investigation into the lives of French and Illinois peoples in the heart of America from the 1720s, filled with colorful vignettes, it is a must-read for anyone interested in colonial American history.”—Gilles Havard, author of Histoire des coureurs de bois: Amérique du Nord, 1600–1840

“This book is a treasure to be passed on to future generations.”—Gregory Heisler, author of Gregory Heisler: 50 Portraits

“The Illinois traveler’s best companion for exploring the nooks and crannies; the sheltering rocks, moraines, and river valleys; the forgotten ferries, winked-out towns, and lost highways of the Prairie State. If you go anywhere in Illinois, you have to start here.”—William Furry, Executive Director, Illinois State Historical Society

“In a lyrical combination of archeological and historical research, personal stories, and startling photographs, Gary Marx and Daniel Overturf remind us that the territory of Illinois long predates the coming of white settlers. They reveal how today’s roads and railbeds were once buffalo traces and Native American trading routes, and tell a deep, layered, and uncommon history of the prairie state.”—Mary Wisniewski, author of Algren: A Life

The Illinois Library Association (ILA) holds an annual conference to enable its members to receive continuing education, build professional networks, and discover new products and services for professional use; and hosts a number of additional continuing education opportunities and events. To provide all participants—members and other attendees, speakers, exhibitors, staff, and volunteers—the opportunity to benefit from these events, ILA is committed to providing a harassment-free environment for everyone, regardless of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, physical appearance, race, ethnicity, religion, or other individual or group identity.

As an association, ILA is strongly committed to diversity, equity, and the free expression of ideas. ILA is committed to the value of civil discourse and the free exploration of competing ideas and concepts—with a fundamental respect for the rights, dignity, and value of all persons.

In the context of ILA policy and the professional practices of librarianship, critical examination of beliefs and viewpoints does not, by itself, constitute hostile conduct or harassment. This policy is not intended to constrain responsible scholarly or professional discourse and debate. We welcome engagement with difficult topics, done with respect and care.

ILA seeks to provide a meeting environment in which diverse participants may learn, network, and enjoy the company of colleagues in an environment of mutual human respect. We recognize a shared responsibility to create and hold that environment for the benefit of all.

At the ILA Annual Conference and other ILA hosted events, you agree to:

• Respect the boundaries of other attendees.

• Look out for one another.

Behaviors such as, but not limited to, the following will not be tolerated at ILA Annual Conference and ILA hosted events:

• Invasion of privacy, including harassing photography or recording.

• Being disruptive, drinking to the point that you cannot participate appropriately, stalking, following, or threatening anyone.

• Abuse of power (including abuses related to position, wealth, race, or gender).

• Homophobia, racism, or behavior that discriminates against a group or class of people.

• Harassment or intimidation based on race, religion, language, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, appearance, or other group status.

• Sexual harassment of any kind, including unwelcome sexual attention and inappropriate physical contact.

All participants are expected to observe these rules and behaviors in all meeting venues, including online venues, and meeting social events. Participants asked to stop hostile or harassing behavior are expected to comply immediately. Meeting participants seek to learn, network, and have fun. Please do so responsibly and with respect for the right of others to do likewise.

Please contact ILA management if you believe you have been harassed or that someone has otherwise violated this policy. All such reports will be directed immediately to the ILA Executive Director, who will determine and carry out the appropriate course of action, and who may consult with and engage other ILA staff, leaders, and legal counsel as appropriate.

A misconduct reporting web form and hotline hosted by EthicsPoint, a third-party provider, is also available. Information provided via EthicsPoint will be sent to ILA on a totally confidential and anonymous basis if you should choose. ILA guarantees that all comments will be heard.

Web form: www.ila.ethicspoint.com
Hotline (toll-free): 1-844-796-6535

Event security and/or local law enforcement may be involved as appropriate, based on the specific circumstances. ILA will also follow up with individuals who report a violation of this policy and provide contact information.
Birth to Five Illinois needs you for our Councils!
We are creating a statewide regional infrastructure that will amplify input from communities in the development of policies and funding priorities for Early Childhood Education and Care.

General Conference Information

Accessibility
ILA wants to make your conference experience pleasant and accessible.

- All conference hotels offer accessible sleeping rooms on request.
- Leader animals are welcome throughout the conference.
- Complimentary ASL interpreters are available by request.
- Complimentary mobility scooters are available by request.
- Gender-neutral restrooms will be available.

Badges
Conference badges must be worn at all times to gain admission to conference programs, events, and the exhibit hall.

Coffee
Complimentary coffee and tea will be available each morning and afternoon. We thank our generous sponsors for their support in keeping the conference caffeinated!

COVID Policy
While we are aware the state mask mandate ended on February 28, 2022, participants at Annual Conference are required to wear masks, regardless of vaccination status, in consideration of your colleagues.

Lanyards
This year the lanyard colors have meaning. Pay attention to the color lanyard your colleagues are wearing and respect their social interaction preferences.

Blue: I’m okay with socializing. I welcome handshakes, hugs, and no social distancing.

Yellow: Please ask what I’m okay with before getting close or going in for a handshake or hug.

Exhibit Hours
All Exhibits meals are included in your registration. Exhibits are not open on Tuesday, October 18. Exhibits-only passes grant entrance to the exhibit hall only and does not include conference program attendance.

Janice M. Del Negro, PhD.

Janice M. Del Negro, PhD, is a professor at the School of Information Studies at Dominican University, where she teaches storytelling, children’s and young adult literature, and foundations of library and information science. Her most recent title, Engaging Teens with Story: How to Inspire and Educate Youth with Storytelling (2017) received a Storytelling World Resource Award and was named SLC/ARBA’s “Best Professional Resource for School or Youth Librarians.” Del Negro serves on the boards of Illinois Storytelling, Inc. and the Northlands Storytelling Network. She has been a featured speaker, storyteller, and workshop leader at several American Library Association conferences, multiple Illinois Library Association conferences, the National Storytelling Conference and Festival, the Society for Children’s Book Writers and Illustrators, Illinois Storytelling Festival, Mariposa Storytelling Festival, and many other celebratory events. In 2016 Del Negro received the National Storytelling Network’s Circle of Excellence Award, “presented to artists who are recognized by their peers to be master storytellers who set the standards for excellence and have demonstrated, over a significant period of time, a commitment and dedication to the art of storytelling.”

Mary McTague Huchting 1935–2019

Mary Huchting’s dedication to libraries and to excellence in publishing for librarians resulted in a broad range of notable and substantive contributions to our chosen profession. In a long and distinguished career (1981–2005) as a production editor and then managing editor for American Library Association (ALA) Publishing, Huchting ably shepherded print flagship titles of critical importance to all librarians, including Anglo American Cataloguing Rules 2 and Guide to Reference Books. As managing editor at ALA, Huchting was responsible for assuring that 30 to 35 books per year were published under the ALA imprint. Known for her insistence on quality, accuracy, and clarity, Huchting gained high praise from her peers and from ALA authors with whom she worked. Michael Gorman, co-editor of Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules and 2005–2006 ALA President, said “Mary’s careful work was invaluable in preparing both editions of AACR2. She was eagle-eyed, diligent, and invariably right in her judgments.”

James R. Johnston

James R. (Jim) Johnston served as the Director of the Joliet Public Library for more than 33 years from 1976–2009. Jim was a visionary leader who touched many lives and made a deep and lasting impact on the Joliet community. During his tenure, Joliet’s historic downtown library was renovated and expanded, an innovative branch in a local mall opened, and the Black Road Branch built. Ahead of his time, Jim testified in front of the Illinois General Assembly arguing for financial assistance in bridging the digital divide in 1979.

Jim showed courageous leadership when the library was firebombed in 1989. He used the terrible tragedy as an opportunity to build back stronger and to revitalize services at the library, and shared his insights into handling a crisis with the ILA community at the ILA Annual Conference the following year. He spoke on disaster response and recovery to library and municipal organizations around the United States over the three years following the firebombing.

What may be most remembered, however, was what an excellent mentor he was to many. It was said of him that he gave you the room to fail and the support to try again. Through that support, countless individuals were able to succeed.

Patricia Jarog

Long before Patricia Jarog pursued a career in public libraries, she found herself volunteering on a library referendum committee and directing several “Murder at the Library” fundraisers. Those early experiences at the Villa Park Public Library played a huge role in her next act: earning a MLIS from Dominican University and landing at the White Oak Library District (the Des Plaines Valley Public Library District in 2006). Her career coincided with that library’s massive expansion in services as well as the total revamp of its three facilities. Serving as adult services librarian, children’s services librarian, children’s services manager, and Lockport Branch manager, her inspirational leadership and innate ability to bring people together in compromise became the hallmarks of her career.

Patricia’s ability to connect with community organizations resulted in a plethora of partnerships including the library’s largest event, Comicopolis, a comic and fandom “con” that topped 2,000 attendees in 2019. It also drew the attention of the City of Lockport, resulting in significant funding from the city’s Summer Art Series and cementing a strong partnership between the library and the city. Her unique capacity for collaboration also made a long-lasting impact on how public-school students would receive library cards. She spearheaded the Student Success Card Initiative that removed barriers from the application process, resulting in the issuance of almost 20,000 cards in a two-year period.

Kathryn Harris

Kathryn Harris is a tremendous force for good in Springfield, Illinois, her hometown for five decades. Her commitment to scholarship, especially the sharing of her remarkable research of abolitionist Harriet Tubman, is a continuation of her life's work around history and exploration. Harris served as the director of library services at the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum in Springfield from 1990-2015. Prior to that, her experience includes stints at the Illinois State Library, Southern Illinois University, and the Lincoln Library. Since her retirement in 2015, Kathryn spends her time volunteering in the community, including vibrant portrayals of Harriet Tubman. In February 2021, she received the Illinois Treasurer’s Office Black History Month Award for Outstanding Service in Arts and Humanity. She was recognized in 2020 by the State Journal-Register as the First Citizen Award winner, an award that recognizes Springfield-area residents who give selflessly of their time and resources in service to others.

Illinois Library Luminaries 2022

Patricia Boze 1952–2020

Patricia Jane Boze was a renaissance librarian whose career made a significant contribution to Illinois libraries. She received her M.L.S. from the then-Graduate School of Library and Science Information in 1988 at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Pat valued libraries as places where individuals and communities could come together and work toward a common goal, enriching the lives of the residents of Illinois. As an enthusiastic supporter of libraries, she spent her career working toward that goal. This was reflected in the programs she worked on at the Lincoln Trail Library System and at the Illinois State Library, from where she retired in 2018.

Pat enjoyed her work and the challenges to help further the library community. She never said “no” to questions, new ideas, or opportunities. Pat was compassionate and caring in her life and this carried over to her professional career as a librarian.

Jean Wilkins

Jean Wilkins served as the Illinois State Library Director from 1999-2004, capping a career at the State Library that began in 1980. Jean received her MSLIS from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1985.

Through the course of her career, Jean Wilkins was a tremendous force for supporting statewide programs to benefit all types of Illinois libraries. Thanks to her vision and foresight, Jean started programs that continue to this day in part or whole. These programs include the Synergy Leadership Program, the Illinois Digital Archives, Project Next Generation, the Cataloging Maintenance Center, the OCLC Group Services Agreement, and Try-It! Illinois. She also expanded other significant programs such as the Illinois Center for the Book and the Talking Book & Braille Service. She pursued grants from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation to support public library technology initiatives, and the Institute of Museum and Library Services to support the transition to electronic from paper documents in state government.

Jean’s incredibly warm personality endeared her to many throughout the years, including Illinois State Library employees, and officials and employees across state government. Especially important is the care that she takes with each person in her life. While she was the Illinois State Library Director, she knew what was going on with every employee, taking care to pay special attention to challenging situations in peoples’ lives.

Illinois Library Association 2022 Annual Conference  47
FORUM OPEN HOUSE
Thursday, November 10 from 12:00 to 2:00 P.M. [SAVE THE DATE! ]

If you’re an ILA member who wants to get involved but isn’t sure where to begin, or if you’ve been considering joining ILA but need a reason, this is a great opportunity to virtually meet managers from some of the ILA forums and learn about their mission, goals, current and future projects, and what it means to be a member of their forum. Attendees will be able to visit one (or all) of the forums because each one will have its own “room.”

In addition, everyone who registers and attends will be entered into a drawing for a chance to win a free registration to the 2023 Reaching Forward South or Reaching Forward Conference. There will be two winners in the drawing.

If you have any questions about this event, please contact Tamara Jenkins at tjenkins@ila.org.

COMMITTEES
